

99.jpg

Dr. S. Robert Powell, at the lectern, spoke of the Welsh roots of the city of Carbondale at the banquet hosted by the Saint David's Society of Lackawanna County and the Carbondale Saint David's Day committee at Genetti Manor on March 1, 2014. The current president of the county Saint David's group is Dr. James T. Arscott, seated at the left with his wife. On the right is Michael Hill, First Vice President of the Society.

100.jpg

Dr. James T. Arscott presents Dr. S. Robert Powell with the President's Award at the Saint David's Day dinner that was hosted by the Saint David's Society of Lackawanna County and the Carbondale Saint David's Day committee on March 1. Dr. Powell was presented with this award for his continuing efforts to preserve and celebrate the Welsh heritage of Carbondale and the Lackawanna and Wyoming valleys.

101.jpg

Dr. S. Robert Powell was the recipient of the President's Award from the Saint David's Society of Lackawanna County at the March 1 dinner hosted by the Society. Dr. Powell, who continues to work to preserve the Welsh heritage and history of Carbondale and the Lackawanna and Wyoming Valleys, is a direct descendant of the Welsh bard, Athenydd, one of the charter members of the Tabernacle Congregational Church, Scranton.